MRPD STREETCORPS

The challenge in providing services for youth offenders transitioning back into the community is to replace negative influences with intensive and comprehensive training and support. MRPD Street-Corps provides academic remediation, employment and training services, support services, counseling/case management, leadership development, job placement, and follow-up services to youth offenders.

The goal of StreetCorp is to connect at-risk youth and young offenders to their community through attainment of their high school diploma, training and employment, when and where possible. In addition to minimizing recidivism among youth participants, this program design allows program participants to serve as models for peers and curb peer involvement in delinquent behaviors. Through the innovative alignment of academic skill remediation with workforce development training, youth participants are poised to advance academically and professionally by being able to sit for and pass credentialing/certificating programs in their area of choice.

This program leverages the area's Gateway Arts District designation and the successes of existing programs operating in close proximity to Mount Rainier for positive youth development. Participants establish a connection to their community through its assets while learning work, academic, and life skills that will allow them to contribute to the community in positive, meaningful ways.

The program participants receive progressive academic skill-building toward the attainment of a GED and/or at least 1-2 grade-level improvements as measured by TABE. In addition to academic remediation, participants receive training in four (4) areas: A/V technology, deconstruction, urban farming and weatherization/ renewable energy.

Progressions through these training experiences are closely aligned with the development of academic skills needed to attain

Anacostia Trails Heritage Authority Navigates Maryland Milestones

Maryland Milestones, a program established in 2012 by ATHA Inc., highlights the many firsts and unique which have occurred in the Anacostia Trails Heritage Area. This program brings information about these milestones to the public and makes connections between the history, culture, and nature of the region. Additionally, the Maryland Milestones program emphasizes the importance that travel, trade, and communication have played in the region – through turnpikes, highways, parkways, aviation, telegraphs, and train travel. In Spring 2012 look for the formal rollout of this program with new signage, milestone markers, and interpretive program trails.

MRTV Programs appear on Comcast 71, Verizon 21, and "On Demand" daily.

MRTV now provides a 24/7 programming schedule. Watch for the daily Program Guide for a list shows and times. LIVE Programs – City Council Meetings and Work Sessions – 7 pm the 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month.

the GED and reach grade-level improvements. As youth participate in Street-Corp, staff provide one-on-one case management and assessment to identify the individual youth offender's particular needs and develop a comprehensive plan that includes short and long term goals in academics, career exploration, work readiness and vocational skills training, leadership and life skills and post program follow-up.

Participants are referred to the program through MRPD, community service organizations, schools, and/or self-referrals. Upon enrollment, participants will work with program staff to complete an individual development plan to identify program goals and measure individual's progress towards those goals.

Youth, ages 16-24, who are out of school, out of work, transitioning from gangs and/or incarceration back into the community. For more information about Streetcorps or to make a referral contact MRPD at 301-985-6580 or grants@mountrainierpd.org.

Tool Shed News

Mount Rainier's Community Tool Shed held its second workshop the morning of February 11 around the theme of "Weatherization."

About 10 people arrived armed with questions for builder Pete McAvoy, as we assessed from bottom up the weatherizing needs and options of a 1920s bungalow.

Pete, an expert in energy efficient building methods, covered such topics as: prioritizing energy improvements in your house; determining what is cost effective weatherization steps; how to insulate an existing wall; interior storm windows; insulating as a cornerstone to energy efficiency; condensation problems in walls and attic ceilings; and different types of hot water heat pumps.

It was a great session and much was learned. The next free Tool Shed event will be Saturday, April 7th, 10 am –Noon, at 4213 34th Street (corner of Tilden & 34th Streets) . Please note, this workshop is not at the Tool Shed.

Steve McKindley-Ward and Jodi Beder will present a Native Plant workshop. Answering the hows and whys of using native plants in your home landscape. For more information contact the Tool Shed at 301-660-7433. This Tool Shed event is free to the public.
