

MD 201 (Kenilworth Avenue) Pedestrian Safety Action (PSAP) Plan Project Update

SHA is Moving Forward with Safety Improvements

The Maryland Department of Transportation State Highway Administration (SHA) would like to update the community on the status of the Pedestrian Safety Action Plan (PSAP) project along a 3.5-mile stretch of MD 201 (Kenilworth Avenue) from 52nd Avenue to Good Luck Road/Campus Drive in Prince George's County.

In December 2024, SHA held a public informational workshop on this project at Bladensburg Elementary School. At the workshop, attendees helped the project team identify challenges for pedestrians, bicyclists and other roadway users. Since that time, the team has used that input to begin design of potential safety improvements.

What We Heard from You

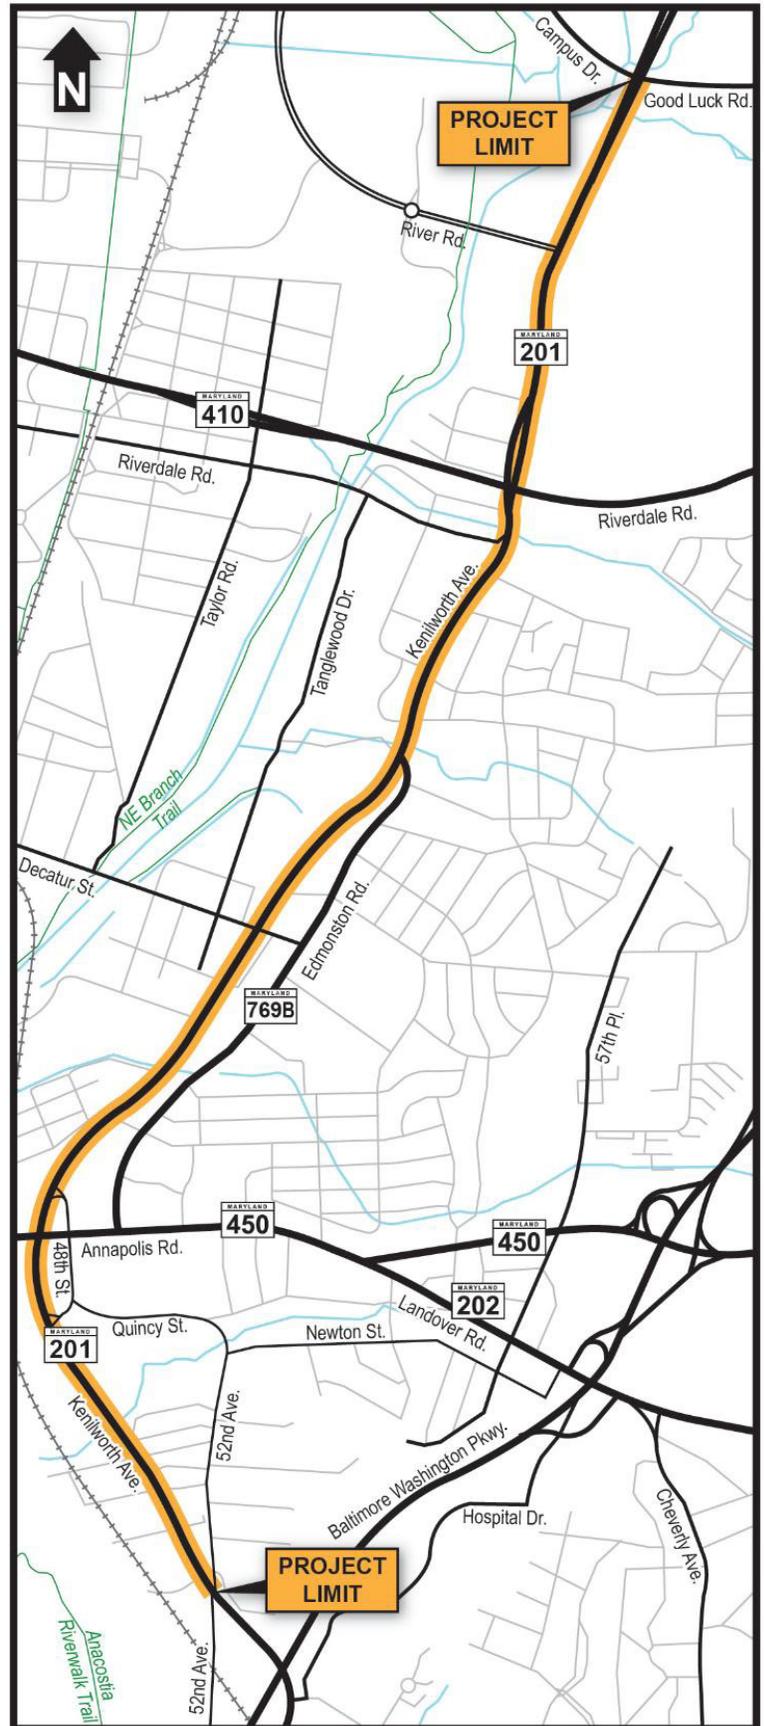

- Many attendees noted the need for additional crosswalks along the corridor.
- Some attendees expressed concern that pedestrians make unsafe crossings in the middle of blocks because of long distances between marked crosswalks.
- Some attendees noted a lack of dedicated bicycle facilities along portions of the corridor and expressed concerns about bike safety.

Next Steps:

1. The project team will continue to consider all public comments received to date while developing the design for the project.
2. SHA will present improvement concepts for public input during an upcoming public informational workshop anticipated for early 2026.
3. Feedback from the next workshop will be considered as the project advances to final design.
